

Rothco Ambidextrous Shoulder Holster

The Rothco Ambidextrous Shoulder Holster is the ideal holster for police and public safety professional featuring a pistol holster opposite 2 magazine clip pouches. There are 2 side release buckles on each side that allows the wearer to swap the positions of the holster and magazine pouches for a left-handed or right-handed draw. This ambidextrous shoulder holster fits a standard size pistol and is the perfect concealed carry addition to your clothing with 4 adjustable shoulder straps and a padded back for maximum comfort and fit. Each side features a hook and loop strap that attaches to the wearer's belt, keeping the holster in place while on duty or out in the field. The mag pouch panel features 2 pockets able to fit a standard size magazine clip and the holster fits most medium to large frame pistols.
