

WeatherTech®

A Low Feeding System with the Highest Standards

The WeatherTech Pet Double Low Pet Feeding System was designed to provide your pet with the safest and most comfortable eating experience available. Ergonomically designed bowls ensure that your pet won't strain their neck and back to get at every tasty morsel of food and every refreshing drop of water. Made right here in America from the highest-quality stainless steel, these pet bowls are the only ones certified by the NSF to be free of lead, radiation, mercury, cadmium and other toxins.

Integrated Stand and Mat Stops Mealtime Messes

The heavy-duty, integrated stand and mat are made using only the highest quality, FDA approved, non-toxic plastics. The WeatherTech Pet Double Low Pet Feeding System combines the stand and mat into one functional and easy-to-clean piece that will make both you and your pet happy. The sloped sides of the stand direct any spills right down onto the mat below. The raised outer lip of the mat works to catch and contain any mealtime spills or messes, keeping your floors clean. The soft mat material traction on a wide array of floor surfaces, keeping the entire feeding system anchored in one place. So, your floors stay scuff mark free! Portable and compact the Double Low Pet Feeding System easily fits into any room in your house, and is perfect to bring outside on your patio or on the go!

Quick and Easy-to-Clean

The WeatherTech Pet Double Low Pet Feeding System was also designed to be easy-to-clean and maintain. The mat and stand can be simply wiped off with a damp towel or rag for a quick clean up. However, every piece of the feeding system is 100% dishwasher safe for those tougher messes!
