

WeatherTech®

A Non-Toxic Pet Bowl Like No Other

There's no other pet bowl out there that compares to a WeatherTech Pet Bowl. Designed with a patent-pending, elongated, tear-drop shape, WeatherTech Pet Bowls were made to provide your cat or dog natural, strain-free access to their food and/or water. So, your furry family friend won't have to strain their neck and back to get at every tasty morsel of food or refreshing drop of water.

Made in America from American Steel

WeatherTech Pet Bowls are manufactured in the USA using only the highest quality American sourced stainless steel. These cat and dog bowls won't chip or break and are polished to a mirror like finish so they're easy to clean. In fact, they're so easy to clean you can just toss them right into your dishwasher since they're completely dishwasher safe.

Certified Safe and Non-Toxic

The WeatherTech Pet Bowl stands alone at the front of the pack when it comes to cat and dog food bowls. Currently these are the only pet bowls to earn the NSF's vaunted "Certified for Home Use" safety certification. This means that they are 100% free from lead, mercury, cadmium, radiation and other toxins that could potentially find their way into lesser products. It also means that they're 100% safe, and not just for your pet either. These bowls are tested and certified to human food grade standards. Why? Because our pets are a part of our family, and we believe in giving them the best.

Did you know that your pet's food and water dishes should be washed daily? That's right – even if your dog or cat licks up the very last crumb, the microscopic residue that is left behind from their food and saliva is a breeding ground for bacteria and germs. Some of the bacteria that can grow (such as staphylococcus aureus, streptococcus, enterobacteria, and more), pose a potential danger to our pet's health. In a perfect world, we would have the extra time to wash our pet's bowls daily. But the reality for most of us is we don't. With our busy schedules, it could take an extra day or so before we get around to washing our pet's food and water dish, allowing pathogens to fester. By purchasing an additional set of bowls, you will be able to serve each of your pet's meals with fresh clean dishes while the other set is being washed. .

If you're looking for quality pet bowls & feeders, visit our website.